

Help Your Pet Fight off Pesky Viruses, Age-related Illnesses and Life Threatening Diseases!

As your pet ages, their immune systems begin to weaken. They become more susceptible to sickness and infection. Maintaining an aging immune system is as critical for pets as it is for pet owners. Elderly and ailing pets need immune support to stay healthy and strong.

And that's where NK-9 can help!

NK-9 is an all-natural supplement that can help your pet's immune system to do what it's suppose to do—fight off disease!

Super Charge Your Pet's Immune System

NK-9 increases the activity of your pets Natural Killer (NK) cells. NK cells are a type of white blood cells that are the body's front line defense against viruses and harmful bacteria. These cells patrol the body looking for and destroying any foreign substance that may threaten your pet's physical well being.

NK-9 provides superior immune support due to our primary ingredient—Active Hexose Correlated Compound (AHCC), a dietary supplement derived from a hybrid mushroom found in Japan. Over 20 scientific studies have confirmed the incredible benefits of AHCC. It is known as a super food. AHCC can increase the function of NK cells by several hundred times. It also stimulates the production of fighter t-cells and friendly chemicals, which are a fundamental part of the immune system. This amazing supplement can kick your pet's immune system into hyper drive. It can give your pet the support he desperately needs to maintain his health!

Your Best Friend's Best Protection

A powerful immune system is the critical link to health and longevity. NK-9 has been proven time and time again to help ill or aging dogs regain their energy. The poof is in what our customers say.

"We are so happy with NK-9. We have two old mixed breed dogs, one with an inoperable cancer and diabetes. We have been so pleased with the increased energy in our dogs after using NK-9. There have been no side affects that we can see and we are so happy to have our pets doing better. Thank you for a great product." Cici V.

"After going to the vets and being given the dismal news that our 7 year old pointer has lymphoma sarcoma...we made the decision to try ImmPower and ordered a bottle... It has now been over a month and Tristen is doing great — eating, drinking, playing and happy."—Cindy C.

"My dog trouble was diagnosed with osteosarcoma and had to have his leg amputated. We have chosen to treat the cancer holistically without using chemotherapy. Part of that treatment includes NK-9, as it has been proven to increase natural killer cells. We're hoping that this adds to the "quality" of his life... making it happy and pain free." Debbie K.

By giving your aging or ailing pet NK-9, you can grace their golden years with health and vitality. While you may spend hundreds or even thousands of dollars on vet bills and antibiotics, NK-9 can fit any budget.
