

Is Your Business Protected?

Dear Pet Business Owner,

As a pet business owner, you know the importance of taking precautions. On any given day you may deal with dozens of cats and dogs coming in and out of your facility. You must take the necessary steps to ensure the safety and well-being of these animals.

You realize that it is critical to have kennels with a secure locking system so that pets cannot escape. You are convinced that it is important to have tall fences so that dogs cannot jump over. Your grooming facility is stocked with appropriate restraining devices, which prevents pets from falling off tables and leaping out of tubs.

But there are other threats that are not so easy to guard against. These include illnesses, bacteria and diseases.

Caused by microscopic organisms that are invisible to the naked eye, these conditions are the greatest threats to your business. An epidemic of kennel cough or parvo may sweep across your facility without warning. If this happens, the financial loss will be devastating. Your facility will be shut down for weeks, causing a significant slump in income. Clients will become dissatisfied and begin to look for a different service provider. You may be forced to pay hundreds or thousands of dollars in veterinary bills and your reputation may be irreparably damaged.

Do you have protection against this type of crisis?

If not, it's time to act now to secure your livelihood and financial assets.

Protect Your Business with PetAirapy

PetAirapy manufactures a unique line of powerful germicidal disinfectant units. These systems utilize commercial and medical grade UVC technology to destroy the DNA of harmful microorganism that cause kennel cough, canine influenza, parvo, H1M1 virus and a host of other diseases. The PetAirapy systems also offer protection from environmental allergies. Our filtration systems will purify the air, eradicating mold, pollen, dust, dander and odors. Pets who suffer from allergies will be able to find relief and refreshment in your facility.

In addition, the PetAirapy units allow you to create a healthy work environment for your employees. With this system in place, your staff will no longer have to breathe polluted air which causes a runny nose, itchy eyes and a scratchy throat. Instead, they will be able to inhale pure, fresh oxygen, which will brighten their mood, lift their spirits and make them feel more productive.

The Most Reliable Protection

The PetAirapy units are the most reliable means for safeguarding your business and livelihood. No other product or system can yield the same results nor offer the same type of protection. Even your insurance company cannot keep you safe. In fact, the majority of insurance companies include an exempt clause in their policies stating that they will not cover loss or damage caused by bacteria or viruses. PetAirapy has stepped in to fill this gap. We offer you the protection you need to run your business with confidence.
